

February 26, 1976

historic sites in this state. What this bill does is indicate that once a building is renovated in an appropriate historic fashion, the operation of that building if it is on a state parks moves under the control of the Games and Park Commission. Now, I bring this matter to you on the floor today and I have to be candid about it even though I know that it will be argumentative because I think that no matter what we come up with in the way of interim studies which the Constitution Revision and Recreation Committee is willing and apparently intends to conduct as long as it enfringes any to any degree upon the operations of the Game and Parks Commission they will object. They have objected. They continue to object. The only solution as I see it is to develop two state Historical Societies. One within the Game and Parks Commission and one, the one created in the 19th Century still operating with better expertise each year. There is no compromise as far as the Game and Parks Commission is concerned. It is also very clear to me that it is this particular agency that continues to thumb its nose upon any kind of directions from the Appropriations Committee. Not because their staff is not competent and agreeable, they are. They are very talented people. You have some strong willed and dedicated people on both sides of this issue. Here we have a plan for dividing the responsibilities so that we can get on with the development of the state historic resources. What I... but, I am afraid that I have to tell you that my feeling is that as long as the game and parks commission objects to any kind of compromised legislation, we will not get that legislation to the floor from the Constitution Revision and Recreation Committee. The testimony at the hearing on LB835 pointed out very clearly the advantages, in my opinion, of separating these responsibilities and duties. It is a thoughtful effort to arrive at a solution to this continuing feud between the two agencies. It is my only alternative to bring it to you directly, because the bill has been killed in committee. No matter what the interim study comes up with, I am confident as long as the Game and Parks Commission loses even one iota of responsibility, they will continue to object. It is time for this Legislature to exercise its responsibilities. To end this feud as only this Legislature can end it. The Game and Parks Commission in this matter is not subject to executive direction. It was not subject to executive direction under Governor Tieman and it is not subject to legislative... executive direction by Governor Exon on this particular matter. We are at a stand off, the same place we have been for at least eight years. I urge that you support my effort to return to move this bill to General File notwithstanding the committees action.

PRESIDENT: Senator George Syas.

SENATOR SYAS: Does Senator Dworak want to talk on it?

PRESIDENT: Senator Dworak.

SENATOR SYAS: He was ahead of me, I know that.

PRESIDENT: I didn't see the light, I'm sorry Senator Dworak.

SENATOR DWORAK: Mr. President, fellow members. The Constitution Revision and Recreation Committee probably spent more